

The Shadows of the Mind Film Festival Presents...

Deal Me In

Documentary Film Screening and Workshop on Youth Gambling for Parents and Professionals.

Thursday, March 25, 2010

9am – 12pm

The Grand Theatre on Queen

Cost is $20 for Parents and Professionals and $8 for Youth under 18 years of age
Mid-morning refreshments and food provided.

A panel of experts in the fields of Youth Gambling and Addictions will be in attendance to answer questions.

Today's young people are the first generation exposed to widespread access to gambling venues, ubiquitous advertising and general social approval of gambling. Deal Me In is a youth-driven documentary that takes a hard look at the possible impacts and experiences of gambling on this generation. Through personal stories and real-world youth impacts, Deal Me In gives youth a voice, helping to bring awareness and education to a socially acceptable and normalized pastime. The film and workshop have been developed to promote informed and balanced attitudes and behaviours towards youth gambling; prevent youth gambling-related health problems; protect at-risk youth from gambling-related harm; and decrease negative attitudes towards problem gamblers.

Please note that seating is limited. To pre-register please contact Carly at csmith@sault.ymca.ca or 945-1600 ext. 4259.